Alien Case Tests Law

Whether or not Kito Nakahara, a Japanese woman with a husband living in the Territory, can enter here or not is a question that is to be fought out in the Federal court, the first steps being taken this morning when Attorneys Cathcart and Chillingworth applied for a writ of habeas corpus.

The woman, according to the facts placed before the court by Inspector Raymond C. Brown came here and has been living here with her husband. She went away for a trip to Japan and is now returning. The port doctor states, however, that she is suffering from trachoma and that this is a contagious disease. She was therefore held to be deported under the provision of the immigration laws for an alien suffering from a contagious disease.

WILL MAKE HARD EFFORT TO HOLD MARKETS

That the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce will make a vigorous effort to maintain the mainland market for fresh bananas and pineapples was made evident this morning, when President E. I. Spaulding of the chamber stated that the organization will present the facts in the case to all the chambers of commerce of the Coast.

The local body is not rebelling against the regulations, but is desirous of putting the matter fairly and squarely before the Coast States, one of which has already barred the fruit except under conditions very hard to comply with, and before the British Columbia chambers of commerce and commercial bodies as well.

"I am awaiting the return of Mr. W. M. Giffard, who has been named to head the fight against the fruit-fly pest," said Mr. Spaulding this morning, "and shall then take up with him the drafting of a letter to all the chambers of commerce of the Coast. We shall draw their attention to the fact that the fly pest can not live in the juices of the pineapple and has not been found in the banana."

"Our effort will be not to attack the regulations proposed by the California (Continued on Page 4)

CHINESE PUT UP BOND FOR SMITH

Norman B. Smith the alleged opium smuggler who was arrested in San Francisco and brought back here some time ago and who yesterday had six more indictments brought against him by the Federal grand jury was allowed out on bonds of $2000 in the one case and his own word on the others.

Farm Corn, a professional bondsman, was one of those who stood for him this time having already backed him out the first charge. The other was Chu Gou who was brought up there and only came through with the goods on the assurance of Frank Thompson of the firm of Thompson, Wilder, Watson & Lymer.

Smith, with the others indicted yesterday, are to appear at half past one o'clock this afternoon for arraignment.

BISHOP STREET TO BE FOUGHT OUT IN COURTS

All hope of any private arrangement with property-owners for the opening of the Bishop street extension has now been put aside as the result of a conference held this morning between Governor Frear, Robert W. Shingle, F. E. Steere, Superintendent of Public Works Marston Campbell, Land Commissioner Charles S. Judd, and Attorney General Alexander Lindsay, Jr.

The matter was thoroughly gone into and thrashed out from all points of view and in the end it was decided to use the machinery of the law as the only way to put the improvement through. The lot wanted by the Brewer Estate can be arranged for, however, it is hoped and a price of $8 a square foot has been placed on it.

Speaking of the matter this morning the Governor said: "We discussed the pros and cons of the whole question at some length and finally out was one of those prescribed by law, in other words that it was hardly practicable to carry out the project by private arrangement."

"The difference would be too great if we proceeded that way; it would only mean more delay and in the end we would get nowhere. The attorney-general has been instructed to take the matter up with a view to ascertaining the best method practicable under the law. He is to institute suitable proceedings so long as no insurmountable difficulties present themselves."

"Meanwhile appraisements have been made for the piece of land that the Brewer Estate wants on the corner of Union and Hotel streets. The price of the land has been fixed at $8 a square foot and the plan is to put it up to public auction. The upset price will be eight dollars a foot and there will be a clause inserted that the purchaser must forego any damage that the possible closing of Union street may cause and also his right to purchase any of it if it is closed. We will also acquire the portion of Hotel street from the Brewer Estate that is necessary for the straightening out of the street, that is of course if they are agreeable."

"The Governor has communicated with the estate and is now waiting an answer as to whether or not the estate is agreeable."

GENERAL SHIFTING OF OFFICERS ORDERED IN SECOND INFANTRY

General orders No. 66 of the Second Infantry, just published, provides for an extensive shake up in the assignment of company and battalion officers. Various assignments and transfers have been made so that the two battalions at Schofield Barracks and the battalion at Fort Shafter are all benefited.

Lieutenant Colonel Willson Stamper, who has just returned to Lihue from Fort Shafter, is assigned to the command of the first battalion. This is really the command of Major Duncan, but the latter is now on duty at the war college, and the regulations provide that a lieutenant colonel can be assigned to the command of a battalion if the major commanding is absent.

Major Wholley is assigned to command the third battalion at Fort Shafter, but in order to make this regular it was necessary to transfer Major Harry H. Bandholtz from the third to the second battalion. Major Bandholtz is not with his regiment, occupying at present the important position of commander of the Philippine Scouts, with the rank of brigadier general. He has done splendid work with the constabulary, and it is not likely that he will be ordered back to his regiment for some time to come, so that with both majors absent, the return of Lieutenant Colonel Stamper to Lihue greatly relieves the pressure.

Captain D. W. Chamberlain is assigned to command Company D. There is another Captain Chamberlain in the Second, Fred V. S., who is in command of M company at Fort Shafter. Captain W. A. Kent is transferred from F to E company. First Lieutenant A. J. Booth is assigned to D. Second Lieutenant W. A. Reed to I. Second Lieutenant L. R. Fredendall to M and Second Lieutenant W. W. Boddie transferred from M to A.

General Macomb and his aide, Lieutenant Andrews, left headquarters at 9 o'clock this morning to join Major Timberlake's coast artillery companies on their practice march. The department commander expects to meet the artillery near Fort Kamehameha. Captain Carter, chief of staff, who always accompanies General Macomb on his inspection, is on a trip to Honolulu, and is not expected in Honolulu until Saturday, or possibly later.

The marines are doing splendid shooting in their record practice on the Fort Shafter rifle range. The scores have been far above the average for the first two days of the trials.

LANAI BEET SUGAR IS SUCCESS; FUTURE DEPENDS ON THE TARIFF

Experiments in sugar-beet raising on the island of Lanai have proved entirely successful, and John T. McCrosson yesterday made emphatic denial of the report that the experiments had been a failure and that the embryo industry is to be abandoned.

In fact, the experiments have shown such good results that already California people interested in beet-sugar raising are preparing to come to Lanai and develop the industry there.

The future of the industry in Hawaii depends largely on the results of the Congressional action on the sugar tariff. The tariff, while believed in no great danger, is vital not only to cane sugar interests here, but to the possible beet sugar development. If Congress takes no action, or the revision is so slight as to be practically negligible, Lanai will become the goal for the Californians and beet sugar growing is expected to become one of the features of the diversified agriculture planned by the big development company.

SEC. WILSON MAY QUIT; WILEY CASE HURTS HIM

(Associated Press Cable.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 19.—The rumor is general here that Secretary of Agriculture Wilson will resign on November 15 because of the result of the disclosures precipitated by the investigation of charges against Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief of the Federal bureau of chemistry under the department.

Charles F. Scott, formerly Republican Representative from Kansas, and Willard M. Hays, assistant secretary of the department, are mentioned to succeed Wilson.

(Special Bulletin Cable.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 19.—Secretary Wilson denies that he will resign.

The charges against Wiley were pushed by George P. McCabe, solicitor in the agriculture department, and Wiley's friends maintained that McCabe has gradually gained an ascendancy over Wilson until the solicitor was really running the department. The charges fell flat when President Taft exonerated Wiley.

JARRETT REPORTS ON CITY CRIME

Sheriff Jarrett has filed his monthly report for the month of September with Mayor J. J. Fern. The police department made 399 arrests and secured 265 convictions. Of this number 47 were Hawaiian, 62 Chinese, 69 Japanese, 16 Portuguese and 71 of other nationalities.

In the list of offenses are enumerated gambling 184 arrests, drunkenness 44, assault and battery 39, larceny 17, profanity 4, malicious injury 10.

Fines and costs collected during the month amounted to $1802.70.

B. F. Coulter, one of the most prominent merchants in Los Angeles and well known for his philanthropy, especially in religious endeavor, died at his home in that city.

The students' registration at Cornell shows an increase of 180 over last year at this time.

Insurance Cut to Be Talk

Thorough and extended revision of the fire insurance rates in force in Honolulu is to be discussed this afternoon at a meeting of the board of fire underwriters.

Two meetings will be held today, the quarterly meeting of the board preceding the meeting of the executive committee. As a result of the discussion, it is probable that some decision will be reached as to a schedule of rates operative here in the future.

According to all indications, the underwriters are preparing to carry out the plans discussed here for the past three or four years for a general revision of rates. Insurance men say that not until now has there been evidence that the city's water system is to be actually reconstructed and the fire department is to be adequately supplied with engines. The lack of fire-fighting apparatus and mains that will carry sufficient water, is they maintain, the reason why the rates have not been lowered before.

Some time ago there was a revision of the basis of rates on dwelling-houses, but it is stated that this had little actual effect on the rates generally. The new schedule, however, is understood to take up all classes of risks.

On the part of one or two agencies, said a member of the executive committee this morning, there is a disposition to lower the rates now and the entire board is willing to make the cut when the fire-fighting equipment of the city is improved. This time is now close at hand, and the meeting today is the first tangible result of the years of consideration.

BOGERT'S GOING TO CHINA, SURE

Governor Frear has refused the request of F. W. Bogert, soldier of fortune and former soldier of Uncle Sam, for permission to "establish a school for military instruction" in Honolulu. This notice came to Bogert in a written communication received this morning.

This means that no Chinese Hawaiian Legion for service with the revolutionary forces in China will be recruited and drilled in the Territory. It does not mean, however, according to Bogert's emphatic statements, that the progressive Chinese here will give up their plan of aiding the enemies of the Manchu dynasty. Bogert says that while there will be no enlistments or drilling on Hawaiian soil, a determined band of between 150 and 200 young Chinamen, under his leadership, will meet at the dock some evening and quietly, as individuals, board an east-bound steamer for the theater of war.

The Governor's communication follows:

F. W. Bogert, Honolulu, T. H.

Sir: I have given careful consideration to your application of yesterday's date, the receipt of which is acknowledged, for permission to give military instruction in compliance with Act 143 of the Laws of 1909, and regret that I am unable to see my way clear to grant such permission under the existing circumstances. Respectfully yours,

(Signed) W. F. FREAR,
Governor.

Delegate Kuhio decided yesterday to leave for Washington on November 8. He will be there shortly before Congress opens. While no confirmation is given the story that the political situation is responsible for his early departure, the recent developments make it certain that there will be something doing in Washington.
